Some blog posts that the group might find inspiring:

- Here's a roundup of 3x3 mini-capsule challenge posts, including the free printable 3x3 worksheet that I mentioned: <https://www.mybodymodel.com/?s=3x3>
- Sketch & Sew: <https://www.mybodymodel.com/category/sketch-sew/>
- Wardrobe Planning: <https://www.mybodymodel.com/category/wardrobe-planning/>
- Rae's guest blog post! <https://www.mybodymodel.com/virtual-fitting-room/mother-of-the-bride-outfit-planning-with-mybodymodel-by-rae/>

Art supplies recommendations:

- You can find some of my favorite art supplies at <https://www.amazon.com/shop/mybodymodel> but these exact ones are not required by any means. All you really need to get started are a pencil and eraser. I also highly recommend shopping at your local art supply store whenever possible!
- Here's a blog post about choosing a marker to match your skin tone, using Prismacolor markers: <https://www.mybodymodel.com/tutorials-tips-freebies/coloring-your-croquis-skin-tones-part-1-markers-edition/>

Children's free croquis & paper doll cutouts that I mentioned are great for young kids, by Bobbinhood (not related to MyBodyModel but very fun!):
